Forecast for Wednesday 12 Apr 2023

Weather: A lot of cloud in the morning with periods of snow at first. Drier and somewhat brighter weather will develop by late morning. Then the rest of the day will see bright spells and a few snow showers, these becoming slow moving later in the afternoon. Some drier interludes expected too, best of the drier weather likely across Monadhliath. Some heavier more prolonged snow showers may arrive later in the evening.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: Little chance at first, becoming 50% by afternoon, falling 20% during the evening

Low cloud and visibility: Good visibility outside of showers and cloud. Becoming poor in snow, and in areas of low cloud down to 750 to 1000 metres. Hill fog will be extensive at first, but becoming patchy in nature by late morning and then mostly in association with showers.
